Town Needs No Police

Blairmore's Police Duties To Be Handled By The Secretary-Treasurer

The regular meeting of the city fathers on Monday night was an usual well attended and productive of a no less dramatic air.

All the councillors were present and each seemed proud of their first opportunity of participating in the capacity of committee chairman. Several communications were read and received, as also a couple of small accounts.

Considerable discussion took place over the placing of the department, bonds, and the secretary was asked to give a four-month-days option to an applicant firm for $13,000 at a rate of 94.

A letter from Mayor Oulmette, of Coleman, was received, referring to the matter of poll taxes, and asking that Blairmore co-operate with the neighboring burg in securing legislation granting permission to collect poll taxes in these towns.

It was shown that in 1909 $12300 has been collected in one year at Coleman, which was enough to cover the salary of the town clerk, and it was estimated that if the poll taxes could be collected in Blairmore where the population is much more transient than at Coleman, at least $2000 could be derived from that source.

Biceps-Drain.—That the town co-operate with Coleman in seeking such legislation. Carried.

McLeod-Beebe.—That the Secretary-Treasurer notify Jas. R. Irwin that after the expiration of a month's notice his services as town policeman would be no longer required.

Considerable discussion ensued, the mayor suggesting that such a notice should be accompanied by satisfactory reason for such discharge.

Councillor McLeod stated that the ratopayers were complaining that the town was paying too many officials and that he felt the secretary-treasurer could quite easily handle the police work in connection with his present duties, as well as his being done in other towns of the province of equal or more importance than Blairmore and that it was in the interests of the ratopayers to curtail expenses in every possible way.

If the secretary should need assistance of any time he could very well employ the services of some one competent to get such work done up with dispatch, which could be done at a cost much less than $100 per month. He also stated that the town was being well paralleled by the Royal North West Mounted Police, and that they were at hand if wanted for any emergency.

Councillor Beebe, when asked his reason for supporting such a motion, stated that he felt duty bound in the interest of the ratopayers to curtail expenses. He failed to see the necessity for a police to handle the small work connected with that department and thought that the secretary-treasurer could manage it in connection with his office.

Councillor McLeod was also of opinion that the police could act as fire chief instead of paying $100 a year to another official.

Other councillors expressed a similar opinion, and the motion on being put to a vote was carried.

McLeod-Drain.—That the present fire hall and waterworks supplies be removed to the lots 19 and 20, block 13, purchased by the town, and that the waterworks committee be authorized to take immediate steps for the removal of same.

This motion revived the free site dispute. The mayor ruled that the motion was out of order in that it did not state facts. He said the town had not purchased any lots and that until the case in appeal was settled they could not touch the Malcolm property.

He said that if the councillors were willing to go about the matter in a right way that the town should be compensated immediately. He would gladly lift the appeal to permit of such a procedure.

When asked what steps were necessary to take in themselves he referred to the original proposal of ex-councillor Farmer and himself to buy the Malcolm lots with a view to selling same to advantage, to also accept the offer of a free site for a fire hall and town offices and a vacant ground from the West Canadian Collieries. He felt they would be doing justice to the rate payers of the town by so doing, and considering the West Canadian's offer as being worth $2,000 he would not consider such a big advantageous proposition to fall through without submitting to the vote of the ratopayers.

Councillor Drain thought that the mayor could not conscientiously consider the free site as a better location for fire hall and town offices than the Malcolm property, and he would never place himself on record as in favor of it. He thought that a recent example was sufficient to prove the utter disadvantage of the free site location, when the firemen were obliged to stop with the hose reel three or four times in endeavoring to reach Mr. Pegg's residence, and that but for the assistance of Mr. Hinde's auto they may only have arrived in time to see the smouldering ruins. Had the firemen in this case come from the vicinity of the free site, they might as well have repaired with their cameras to the roof of the Metropolitan and secure views of a beautiful flame.

The chairman of the Water and Works committee, Mr. Brisco, was requested to attend to water connection of the Malcolm property, and also the Liquor Store.

The meeting closed at 10 o'clock.

To Build a $10,000 Block

Five Solid Brick Bonded Warehouse on Ninth Avenue For Wholesale Liquor Co.

The latest move in Blairmore business circles is the formation of a company to be known as the Murphy & Frayer Liquor Company, Limited, who have already made application for the transfer to itself of the wholesale license granted last year to Messrs. Murphy & Frayer.

It is the intention of the new company to at once start the erection and equipment of a modern bonded warehouse, which will outclass anything of the kind in Southern Alberta.

We understand that an outlay of about $10,000 will be expended on the new warehouse, which will be a modern two-story solid brick building on a solid concrete basement, and planned along the most modern principles.

Part of the equipment of the building will be two large elevators, operated between the basement and the top floor.

The building will be located on Ninth Avenue just north of the present premises of the company, and when completed will be one of the finest structures in the town.

Work will commence at an early date and it is expected to have the building completed early in the year.

This new bonded warehouse will be to the Crown's Nest Pass what a similar establishment at Calgary has been to the whole province, and in consequence the trade of The Pass will be confined to The Pass with Blairmore as the chief centre of distribution.

RARE GEMS STOLEN

Thieves Last Jeweller's shop in Something like a Record Time. In Paris a theft of about $50,000 worth of jewelry was carried out with extraordinary daring and in less than five minutes. It was a jeweller's shop at the corner of the Place de l'Opera in Paris, near the theatre of the same name.

A fortnight ago the Societe Generale gave up its little branch office next door to the shop of M. Clere, the jeweller, at No. 4, Place de l'Opera. The jeweller took over the premises of the bank to increase his own space, and the bank moved into the new building.

The thieves made by the police lead them to believe that the thief spent the night in the premises which recently belonged to the Societe Generale. His opportunity came when at 7 o'clock this morning the watchman went outside the jeweller's shop, to wind up the iron shutter. Then the thief must have slipped into the shop through the hole in the wall, and rifled the many cases of jewelry standing ready to be taken.

Whether this theory be true or not, there is no doubt that the thief got clear away with really valuable rings and a diamond necklace, and other jewelry to the value of $50,000.

HER MEMORY LOST

Woman Put into Hypnotic Trance in Effort to Discover Her Identity. A very strange and remarkable case of the identity of a young girl in England in Paris who completely forgot her name eight months ago is still unsolved.

Her name, Miss Helen, is a young girl of 19, and a bright, happy disposition. This young Englishwoman when she was recently appeared to her memory as the result of a shock. At one time, when Dr. Charles Henderson, the eminent nerve specialist in charge of the case, put her into a hypnotic trance, she gave the name of Alice Henderson, but on several occasions she has declared that her real name is Winifred Courtney Henderson.

In her trance, Henderson never and was not to be named by name. This statement appears to be confirmed by the fact that she has been bearing the initials "H.C.H." These initials are the initials of the name of an uncle, Herbert Courtney Henderson. The woman says that she was born in India and that she remembers Sir John Henderson, her father, and that she and her father and uncle were officers in the British army. She also remembers a certain Captain Andrews who used to visit her family.

Her father, she says, she has a governess called Bella, who left to her the house, and that she may have gone to live at Charent. The details she gave of Miss Henderson were so complete that the doctor was not at all surprised.

All the particulars she gave of the case and the neighborhood and the names of the streets were found to be exact, but at the present no one knew her.

When she was leaving she recalled that she was shipwrecked between New-Haven and Dieppe when travelling with a woman.

SULTAN'S HOUSEHOLD IN FEAR OF INFIDEL

Women of the Imperial Harem in a State of Panic. In Constantinople there was, undoubtedly consternation at Dolmabahce Palace, when the news was given by his household that the sultan's army may at any moment break through the Thracian lines and enter the city.

Every preparation for war has been made, and the palace is ready to receive the sultan's army. The women of the household are in a state of panic, and the chief concern is to get the sultan's army out of the city.

Nevertheless, the women of the household, numbering many dozens, are in a state of panic, and the chief concern is to get the sultan's army out of the city. The women of the household are in a state of panic, and the chief concern is to get the sultan's army out of the city.

There are no great treasures to take away. When Sultan Abdul Hamid was dethroned his private collection of jewels and diamonds was distributed, so little of great value was left to his successor, the Sultan, who was dethroned.

Yildiz Hamid, who was dethroned, was a very young man, and his father, Sultan Abdul Hamid, was a very old man. The Sultan, who was dethroned, was a very young man, and his father, Sultan Abdul Hamid, was a very old man.

Changed my mind, came the brief reply. And I'm going back, either to the school or to the street. But, Thomson, expostulated the girl, it is not a school, it is a street. That school has turned out some of the smartest men in the city.

Know all about that, returned the older man scornfully. And it's turned out, too, lots of the members of the New South Wales legislature have declined to accept the increase in their salaries voted by parliament.

ILLNESS OF THE CZAREVITCH

Many of the Middle Ages With Which Many Princes are Affected. In Paris a report of the illness of the czar's physicians concerning the illness of the czar's children, the boy and the girl, is a subject of interest.

It is stated that this strange and terrible malady, whose victims bleed excessively after comparatively slight injuries, has occurred at intervals among the scions of European royal families since the middle ages.

In popular language, the victims of this constitutional tendency to bleed excessively have been said to have only one side instead of three. This is, of course, that hemophiliacs have just as many sides as any one else (to wit, six), but that their blood lacks to a greater or lesser degree that power of coagulation or clotting which in normal persons results in a natural arrest of hemorrhage after any serious injury.

At the present time it would seem that hemophilia is more prevalent than ever among princes. ### Dangerous Talk Mother. I wish you wouldn't mention dishwashing when George is calling on me.

Why not, indeed? I don't like it. It sounds common.

Common, eh? Well, I don't want to.

Oh, come on. And George knows we eat and wash dishes?

That's very true. And George also knows that dishes have to be washed, so therefore some body has to wash them.

But mother—

What now?

If you keep on talking about it, George may discover that he makes rather wide eyes when he says that the wife is coming to him if he should propose to me.

Somewhat Out Left.

Two Fires at Maple Leaf

Two disastrous fires visited Maple Leaf last week causing great damage. On Wednesday night the house recently built by John Olus in the rear of Mrs.
Rudd's store took fire at about 7 o'clock. In a remarkably short time the entire building with all contents was demolished. The family were out visiting at a neighbors house at the time. For a time it was thought that one of the children was in the house but this proved to be untrue and a great deal of anxiety was relieved.
The family saved nothing but what they had on them. The night was bitterly cold and clear and it took the fire a few moments
to complete its destructive work.
The cause of the fire is unknown.
The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The second fire of the week
broke out at about 9:30 p. m. on Friday at the wash house of the Maple Leaf mine caused it is supposed from an overheating of the pipes. As the miners keep their
